

Goals of Diabetes

Transition to Adult Services

Transitioning in diabetes means preparing for the transfer to adult diabetes services. When transferring to adult services, it is important to work with your diabetes team and set goals together.

You'll start to see members of the team on your own without your parents or carers and you'll be able to discuss any issues around consent and patient confidentiality with your diabetes team.

